

PABLOS CHOICE

soprano recorder, trombon, tuba, marimba and harp

When Pablo Picasso started to work in his cubistic style there was a lot of people who thought it was a dead end. Time has shown that it wasn't. This piece is dedicated to the famous painter and everyone who dares to walk in an unknown direction.

/Daniel Hjorth